

ANNEMARIE L. DALY, M.D., J.D., F.A.C.P., H.M.D.C., is a graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School, Ann Arbor. Dr. Daly completed internship in psychiatry and residency in internal medicine at the University of Michigan. After residency, she was a Joint Fellow in Geriatric and Cardiovascular Medicine at the University of Michigan. She is recipient of an AAP/ASCI/AFCR Trainee Investigator Award 1996. Dr. Daly has numerous publications in peer-reviewed scientific journals. Dr. Daly is board certified in internal medicine, geriatrics and is a certified hospice medical director. Dr. Daly is also a graduate of the Wayne State University Law School, Detroit, Michigan. She is author of "Opioid Pseudoaddiction: A Casualty of the War on Drugs, Racism, Sexism, and Opiophobia," Quinnipiac Health Law Journal. Her research interests are in clinical pharmacokinetics, pharmacogenetics, and the safe and effective use of opioids in end of life care. Dr. Daly is Medical Director of Grace Hospice, Ann Arbor, MI, and Medical Director of the Patient Care Center for US Medical Management.